About the Stapler ESD

The ESD Stapler is specifically designed for use in static-sensitive areas and cleanroom environments, making it an essential tool for professionals working with ESD-sensitive components.

This stapler helps prevent electrostatic discharge (ESD) that could damage sensitive electronics, ensuring that all stapling tasks are performed safely.

Its sleek black colour provides a professional appearance, while the printed ESD symbol clearly indicates its compliance with ESD safety standards. A must-have addition to your ESD stationery, it ensures that static discharge is effectively controlled in environments where electrostatic protection is critical.
